

From Geppeto's workshop:
puppets at the University Hospital
June-July 2012

Welcome to my world of wire, scrap and lots more. The wire figures are each made of a single strand – just like sketching!

Madame Curie, the 11th Prince, Tango lovers and many more populate my workshop and imagination...

Gepetto's workshop – a creative chaos filled with wooden heads and wood chips everywhere ...

Blind faces – they look but don't see. Inspired by Uncle Isaak's tale in Bergman's "Fanny & Alexander"

Small portraits: my husband, Picasso, Rodin and a good friend, gone but not forgotten...

"Rolf's journey" – inspired by a friend's premature death ...

Mademoiselle Roswitha in Sonja Richter's image, from "The Tin Drum", Betty Nansen Theater, Copenhagen

Sonja Richter and scene designer Maja Ravn meet Roswitha...

"A Fish's Tale" a dream-like tale about Man's misuse of our greatest resource – our oceans...

"The Little Mermaid" – after her transformation ...

... her mother and sister gaze at her sadly from afar ...

"Wolan's Cat" from M. Bulgakov's "Master & Marguerita"

"The Priest" from P. Østerfelt's novel "Anatomy of a Dream" (out in October 2012)

"The 11th Prince" from H.C.Andersen's fairy tale
"The Wild Swans"

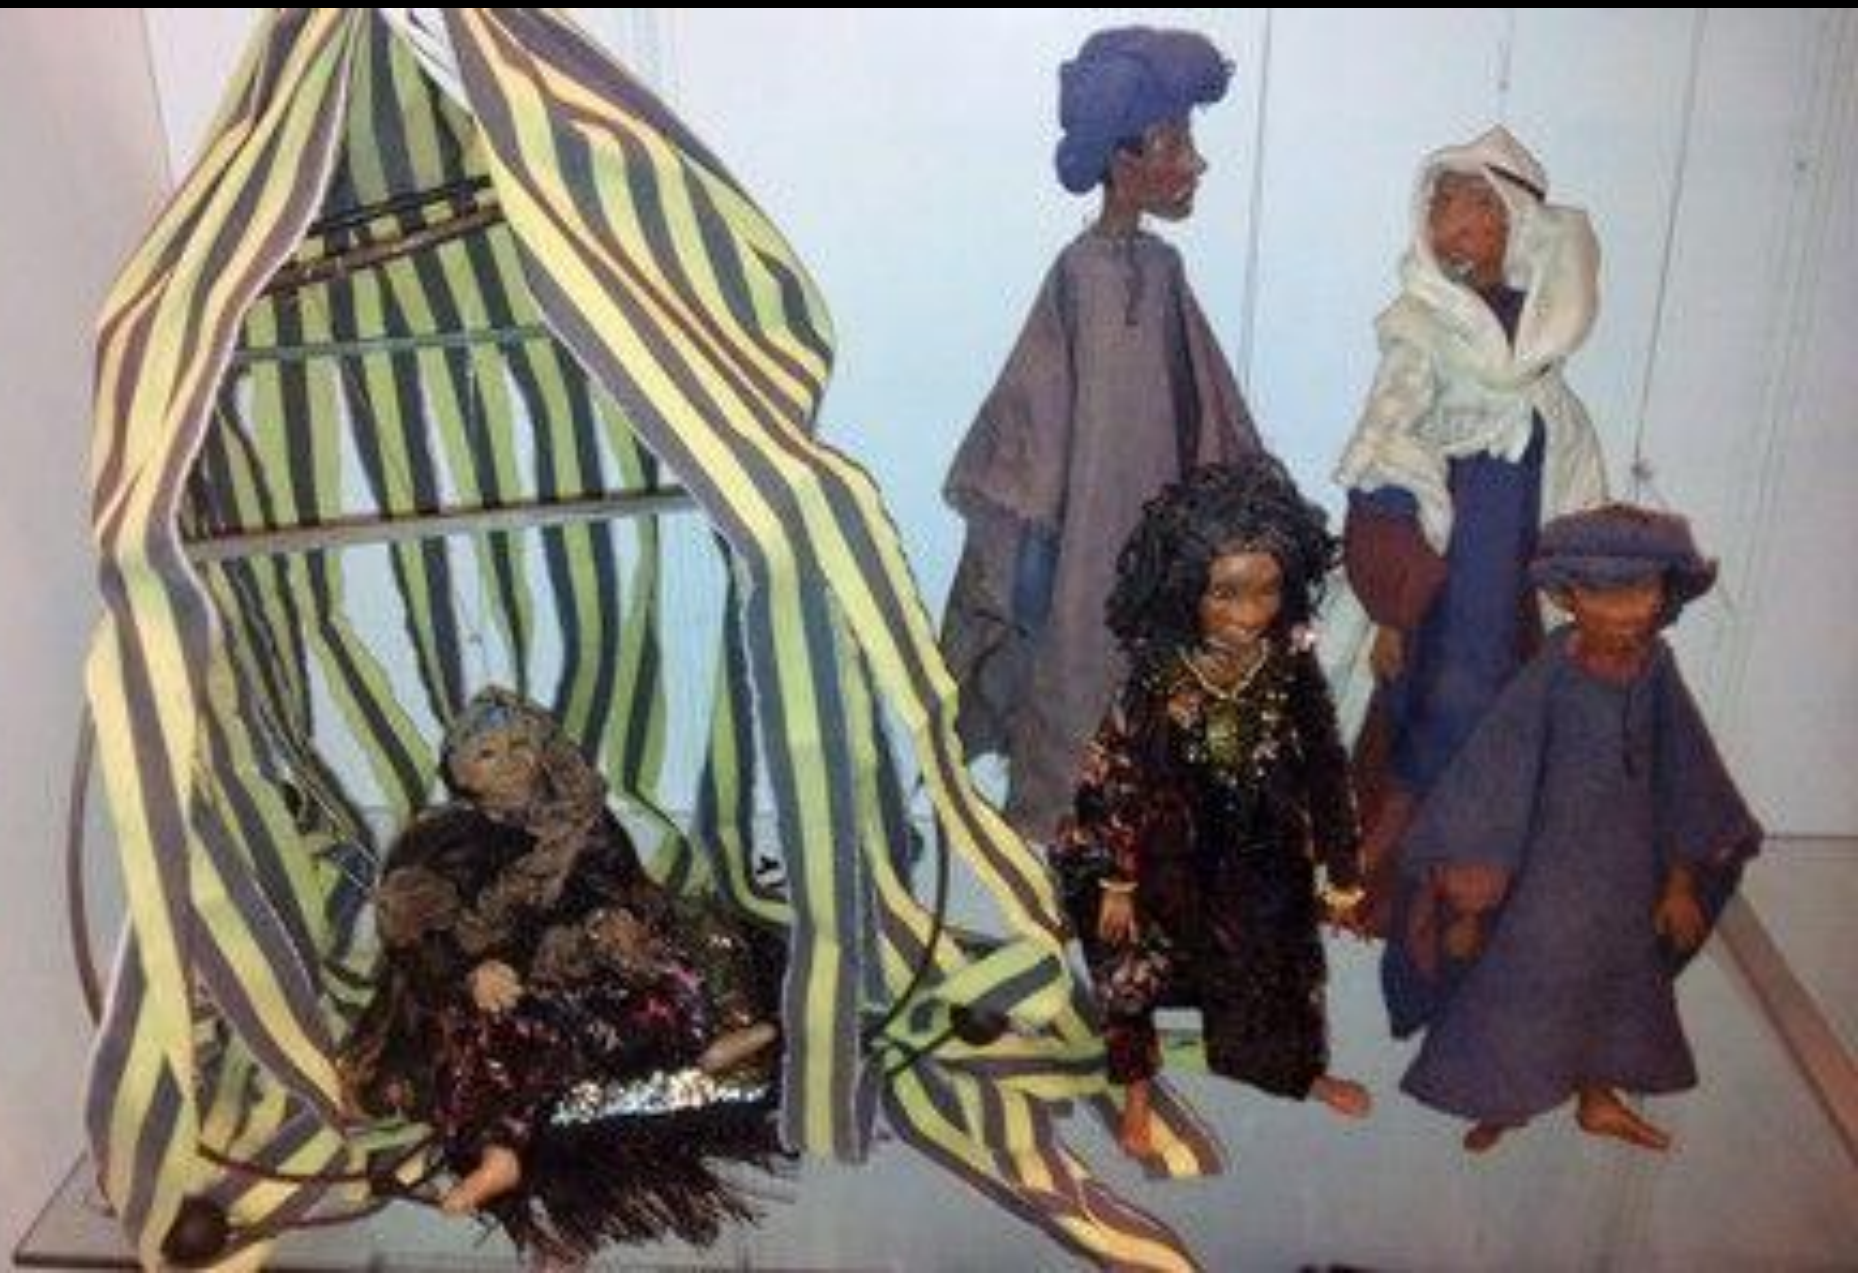

... and they danced until dawn ...

Don Quixote and Co. – and of course Rosinante the horse!

Merry Christmas...

... and Happy New Year !!!

Thanks for coming
